VRAKAS ANNOUNCES HE WILL NOT SEEK RE-ELECTION

WAUKESHA, Wis. – Waukesha County Executive Dan Vrakas issued the following statement announcing he will not seek re-election in 2015:

After a great deal of consideration and reflection on what will be nearly 25 years in elected office this coming April, I have decided not to seek re-election as Waukesha County Executive. I am eternally grateful to the people of Waukesha County for supporting me all these years and I feel blessed to have had the opportunity to serve the County and the State that I love.

Waukesha County is fortunate to be home to many great communities, businesses, non-profit partners and public servants. Thank you all for your support and your commitment to growing and improving Waukesha County.

Over the past nine years as County Executive, we have reduced the number of County departments, formed many regional partnerships with other governments and worked hard to find ways to save tax dollars. Cooperation, consolidation and partnerships have been the cornerstones of our ability to keep Waukesha County the lowest spending per capita County in the State of Wisconsin, one of only a handful of counties in the country with a AAA/Aaa bond rating, and one of only a few counties statewide that have not levied a County sales tax.

I am proud of the work we have done together and know that Waukesha County will continue to lead the way.
