

This week is National Volunteer Week and all across America, various agencies will be recognizing the efforts of their volunteers. Waukesha County is one of those agencies.

The Aging & Disability Resource Center, Department of Health & Human Services, Park and Land Use and the UW Cooperative Extension depend on volunteers to help carry out their mission. It is through the tireless efforts of these dedicated people that we are better able to provide for people in our community.

If you work with volunteers or have an opportunity to see our volunteers in action, please take a moment to thank them for making Waukesha County a better place to live.
