

In 1935, just 32 years after the Wright Brothers' famous first flight, Waukesha County Airport began as an airport for aviation enthusiasts to learn to fly. Today, the airport serves a variety of business and recreational flight, providing nearly 1,000 jobs that generate over $24 million in wages and payroll per year for the local community, according to a 2009 economic impact report. The airport is also credited with generating nearly $81 million in sales for the organizations that use it for aviation, and the companies that provide goods and services to them.

SERVING BUSINESSES FOR 75 YEARS

Your Airport, Your Way.

Are you tired of the hassle and inefficiency of airline travel? There is another way. You could be traveling from the convenience of Waukesha County Airport/Crites Field, right in your own backyard, using a variety of affordable and much more efficient business air travel options like charter service, fractional jet ownership or ownership of your own aircraft. It's more affordable and easier than you may think.

“ 85% of companies that use business aviation services are small and mid-size businesses. ”

National Business Aviation Association (NBAA)

When you consider the value of your time and your employees' time, and how much of it is wasted every time you travel for business, then add that to the cost of flights, hotels and meals, it's not exactly the cheaper alternative any more. In fact, since the airlines have cut service to hundreds of smaller communities nationwide, it's nearly impossible to fly out for a business meeting and return the same day – unless you are avoiding the airlines and using a better business aviation alternative.

Waukesha County Airport is full-service airport open 24/7 and located conveniently just 20 minutes from Milwaukee, in the heart of one of Wisconsin's fastest growing communities. More than 50 local businesses regularly use the airport, including:

- large and small companies transporting staff to meetings with customers and branch offices;
- consultants and experts like engineers traveling to meet customers;
- charter aviation companies taking their clients to and from important meetings;
- flight schools training students to fly; and
- a variety of companies based at the airport that provide equipment and services to aircraft owners and guests that fly into the airport.

Nearly half of the airport's 200 small aircraft owners use their airplanes for both business and recreational purposes.

The airport features runways long enough for nearly all corporate aircraft and an approach lighting system and instrument landing system that enable aircraft to land in inclement weather. In fact, the airport has a much better track record of staying open during Wisconsin's harsh winters than other airports in the vicinity, including the Milwaukee airport.

Airport-based businesses provide aircraft and avionics maintenance services, flight training, charter and various other services to support local aircraft requirements. A full list of services and contact information is provided in this brochure for your convenience.

Charter Flights

There are a variety of companies that can take you wherever you need to go on business and, in most cases, they'll get you back home the same day. If you need to take a team with you, just schedule a larger aircraft! It's that easy.

Aircraft Ownership

If your business flight requirements are big enough to require one or more corporate aircraft, or you want to move your current fleet to Waukesha County Airport, we can support you every step of the way. We have several companies based right at Waukesha County Airport that will help you acquire a corporate aircraft and ensure that it fits your travel requirements, no matter how far or frequently you need to fly.

Hangars – Build, Buy or Rent

Waukesha County Airport has plenty of land available to build a hangar or you can rent hangar space in one of our facilities. We provide a secure environment to protect your assets, without infringing on your ability to access and enjoy your hangar and your airport with co-workers, friends and family. The airport and its tenants are well-known for hosting charity fundraisers and weekend barbecues in the hangars, which is just part of the fun at Waukesha County Airport.

Aircraft Management

If you want the airplane but not the complications of employing and managing flight and maintenance crews, then we have a solution for that too. Aircraft management services offer you the convenience and tax benefits of owning an aircraft, but without the inconvenience of managing maintenance, crew scheduling, catering or other services for your business trips. All you need to do is schedule your flight!

Maintenance, Avionics and More

We have two companies based at Waukesha County Airport that provide top-notch aircraft maintenance service, and we're also fortunate to have a full avionics installation and repair facility. In addition, you can have your airplane cleaned and detailed right on site by another airport-based company. And, of course, our fabulous Fixed Based Operator is open 24/7 to support your early morning and late night flights, providing fuel, catering for in-flight meals, hotel reservations, rental cars and other services when you need them.

Flight Training

If you've ever wanted to learn to fly, we can offer you yet another reason to seriously consider it. Nearly half of our airport tenants fly their airplanes for both business and recreation. Many of them have learned to fly right at Waukesha County Airport through one of our two flight schools, which also help them maintain their proficiency. They love the freedom to fly themselves to meetings without the hassle of going through long lines at a commercial airport, and returning comfortably the same day to sleep in their own beds.

“ 72% of passengers aboard business airplanes are non-executive employees. Companies often send teams of employees to a given destination because it is the most cost-effective means of transport. ”

National Business Aviation Association (NBAA)

“ Our aircraft operations have been based at Waukesha County Airport for over 15 years. The facilities are well maintained and have continued to be upgraded to accommodate our business needs. We use virtually all of the service providers listed in this brochure and are very pleased with the quality and value of their work. The area that stands out the most is the staff of the Airport and FBO. They are professional, friendly, helpful and always willing to go the extra mile to assist our operations and guests. We are proud of our long association with Waukesha County Airport. ”
