

Waukesha County Post-Charge Deferred Prosecution Agreement (DPA)

Description

The Waukesha County Post-Charge DPA is offered to Waukesha County residents, with consideration for residents of nearby counties, that do not have a record of violent offenses, score moderate risk (or low risk with a felony charge or high risk with a misdemeanor charge) on a risk-needs assessment, and are identified as an offender who abuses opioids. Residents of other counties may be considered for participation, but the ability to attend all treatment and meetings is a deciding factor. Program requirements and components are determined on a case-by-case basis, primarily based upon the needs of the offender. Typical requirements and components may include regular court appearances, substance abuse treatment, counselling, drug testing, community service, and restitution. Program length is a minimum of six months for misdemeanor charges and twelve months for felony charges, but may extend for a longer duration under certain circumstances.

The Post-Charge DPA is offered to offenders following the approval of the Prosecutor assigned to the case. A scientifically validated risk assessment tool, administered by Wisconsin Community Services, is used to assess the eligible offender's risk to determine program placement as well as the necessary and appropriate level of services to be required per the DPA. After entering into the DPA, Wisconsin Community Services will provide all treatment referrals and drug testing, as well as monitor community service completion and compliance with all other program requirements. Non-compliance with program requirements will be reported to the District Attorney's Office and to the Court to determine the appropriate sanction or initiate agreement revocation.

The successful completion of a Post-Charge DPA is contingent upon the offender's ability to uphold his or her end of the agreement by following, attending, and completing all of the required conditions outlined in the DPA. Failure to follow, attend, and complete all of the required conditions as outlined by the program structure will result in sanction or revocation of the Agreement, followed by formal charging and prosecution as contained in the DPA. The decision to revoke the Agreement lies with the District Attorney's Office, but must be approved by the Court.

The Post-Charge DPA is a beneficial opportunity for offenders who meet the necessary requirements. By participating in and completing the program, pending charges will be amended to a lesser charge or dismissed altogether. The Post-Charge DPA is also beneficial in that it limits jail and prison sentences, reduces recidivism by utilizing rehabilitation and treatment, and saves taxpayer dollars.

Requirements

In order to be eligible for the Post-Charge DPA, an offender must:
