McClain distributed and reviewed documents titled, “Mental Health Advisory Committee Bylaws,” “Substance Use Advisory Committee Bylaws,” and “Remote Guidelines.”

She stated that the MHAC and SUAC have been approved by the HHS Board to move forward with hybrid meetings.

The primary rule to keep in mind is that attending a meeting in a hybrid fashion is an exception, not a normal practice. Committee members are encouraged to read the guidelines for additional rules regarding the hybrid meetings.

The overflow shelter is scheduled to be open between November 1 and April 1.

Overflow shelter residents can only be referred to the overflow shelter through Hebron House and the Salvation Army. There will be no direct referrals. Case management will also fall back on the shelter that provided the referral.

There are grants to help fund the shelter, but the grants cover the bare minimum.

HAC is looking at affordable housing in the community.
