

STRATEGIC PLANNING OVERVIEW

Strategic planning is the process of determining long-term goals and then identifying the best approach for achieving those goals. Waukesha County has been using strategic planning tools for over a decade. In 2015, the County worked with Department Heads and departmental strategic planning coordinators to update their plans to include robust environmental scans identifying department wide and Countywide critical issues, and ensure that all strategic objectives include year-over-year measurable data. In 2016, the County will continue efforts for continuous plan improvement, focusing on strengthening linkage between environmental scans and objectives, examining format to increase clarity and developing a web-based tool to communicate County strategic objectives with community stakeholders.

Through the strategic planning process, the County establishes links between core values, business functions and measurable program outcomes across all departments. Strategic planning ultimately helps the County identify and set priorities so that service delivery modifications can be made to better assist and serve its citizenry. In 2012, the County created a cross-departmental Strategic Planning Steering Committee which continues to guide the process and help identify priorities. In 2012-2013 the committee led a multi-year process to update and reenergize the strategic planning process.

As the first step of this multi-year process, focus groups that were held in 2012 and 2013 indicated that, overall, County residents are pleased with the quality, level and value of services. In addition, it is clear that most important outcomes for county stakeholders continue to be a "safe" and an "economically vibrant" county. Results of the focus group efforts clearly stated that residents want high quality services at a low cost.

The second step in the process was developing an employee survey focused on the County's core values. The annual employee survey remains a vital step in the strategic planning process and plays an important role in developing a strong corporate culture.

The third step of the process is to examine and analyzed peer counties in the State of Wisconsin and nationwide to identify benchmarks in which to evaluate Waukesha County. In 2013, from this process, the County determined that a system to review strategic plans and objectives must be implemented annually to ensure that each department proactively and consistently updates their progress toward strategic goals. Every year, after plans are reviewed, goals and benchmarks for the following year are established and the Steering Committee develops appropriate plans and trainings aimed at continuing improve upon the plans.

The County continues to be a leader by strategically providing high quality services at the lowest possible cost via shared services, public/private partnerships, collaborative efforts, and technology investments to redesign how the County does its business and streamline business processes.
