Inspire Your Heart with Art

“National Inspire Your Heart with Art Day” is January 31st but can be celebrated all year round. This is a day to ponder how art affects your heart. Art can have a positive effect on all of a body’s senses and can be valued and appreciated no matter what form of art you enjoy.

Art can be very powerful, it can move us to tears or cause us to burst out into joyous laughter and sometimes remain with us for a lifetime. There are many forms or mediums of art. Art can be music, paintings, or photography to name a few. Inspire Your Heart with Art Day encourages us to explore the many genres of art and let it inspire us. Below are a few ideas that you can use to inspire your heart.

♦ Visit an art gallery.
♦ Read a good book.
♦ Listen to music.
♦ Attend a ballet performance.
♦ Start your masterpiece.
♦ Teach someone how to play an instrument.
♦ Attend an art lecture.
♦ Explore a new technique.
♦ Try sculpting with clay or Playdoh.
♦ See an inspirational film.
♦ Share your art with others.

Art is not something that only needs to be viewed. You too can be an artist by finding a form of art that interests you, finding the tools you need and get started. You can also contact local art studios or technical college to take some classes. So whatever your choice of art, let it inspire you!

TIPS FOR DIFFUSING FAMILY CONFLICT

Providing care for a loved one through a debilitating illness or at life’s end can create stress on individuals and families alike. Each family member has his/her own response to the difficult situation and will have varying levels of commitment to help. Each person handles stress, grief and change in their own way and will also have different ideas of what is best for the loved one needing care.

Good communication is essential in keeping families strong through a difficult time. Disagreements are sure to arise but the key to success is to diffuse the conflict before feelings are hurt and long-lasting damage is done. Here are some tips that will help you avoid conflict and make your caregiving journey less stressful and more successful.

- Be honest. Say that you are feeling stressed, overwhelmed, scared, sad, etc. Then work together to diminish these feelings.
- Use “I” statements to avoid blaming others.
- Value everyone’s ideas and opinions. Don’t judge. There is not just one right way to provide care for someone.
- Share responsibility. When everyone has a task or responsibility (however small) a sense of teamwork is shared.
- When times get tough, remind each other that it is the disease that has caused the challenge. Blame the disease, not the person with the disease (or each other) for hard times.
- Step back and look at the larger picture. Sometimes we get hung up on a certain issue and lose sight of the more important goal (like happiness, safety and/or independence).
- If you are the main caregiver, get some respite! Taking a break from your daily duties can boost your spirits and in turn help you communicate better.
- LISTEN! Be an active listener by focusing on what is being said, including body language, without interrupting. We often miss much of what someone is saying because we are busy thinking about what we will say next. Or we “tune out” what is being said because we think we’ve already heard it.
- Never assume anything. When doling out tasks, be specific and clear to avoid misunderstandings. Write things down.
- Find a good time to communicate. If you need to talk to someone don’t do it while they’re in the middle of something else. Always ask, “Is this a good time?” before diving in with a heavy topic.
- Schedule regular family meetings, either in person, over the phone or by e-mail so everyone is kept updated on how things are going.

If you need help in your caregiving role, contact the ADRC at (262) 548-7848.

Are you a grandparent or have a new grandbaby on the way? New babies are particularly vulnerable to whooping cough, an easily spread lung infection known for uncontrollable, violent coughing. Whooping cough, also known as pertussis, can be deadly. Grandparents can play a key role in helping to protect their grandchildren from getting whooping cough, by making sure they themselves are up to date with the pertussis vaccine. If you have a grandchild on the way, or if you spend a lot of time with your young grandchildren, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) strongly recommends getting a booster of the vaccine that protects against pertussis.

Due to recent outbreaks, Waukesha County Public Health is currently able to offer the Tdap vaccine, which protects against pertussis, for $10. Walk in anytime during our business hours to get this vaccine. Call us if you would like to see if you are due for the Tdap vaccine. 262-896-8430
Dear Ina, I really enjoy going to my local YMCA to work out but in the winter months, I cannot always get there due to inclement weather. Are there activities I can do using my smart tablet that are free and recommended for seniors?

Sign: Frank A. Fit Sr.

Dear Frank, I know it is not always easy to get to a gym during the winter months but with the worldwide web, you can find a plethora of programs recommended for seniors. Here are some recommendations:

- Yoga Studio (http://www.yogastudioapp.com/)
  The Yoga Studio App has more than 100 ready-made yoga videos and meditations. You can search for classes based on duration (five to 60 minutes); ability (beginner to advanced); focus (balance, strength, relaxation); and intensity (low to high). Or build your own class from a library of 280 poses, complete with detailed instructions for each one.

- SilverSneakersGO (https://go.silversneakers.com/silversneakers-go-promo)
  SilverSneakers GO offers four- to 12-week strength, walking, and flexibility and mobility programs that can be tailored to your fitness level. Within each program, you’ll have access to easy-to-follow exercise demonstrations and tips to modify any movement to fit your comfort level and equipment needs.

- The Johnson & Johnson Official 7 Minute Workout (https://7minuteworkout.jnj.com/)
  The Johnson & Johnson app makes starting up a regular workout routine a breeze. All you need is seven minutes, a wall, and a chair to get an effective strength and cardio workout. The video demonstrations and audio cues make it easy to follow along, while the app allows you to indicate your like or dislike of exercises like jumping jacks, squats, lunges, wall sits, and more. Stick with the original seven-minute workout, pick from 21 other ready-made routines, or utilize the custom workout feature as your fitness improves.

- 7 Minute Chi (http://www.7minutechi.com/)
  Often described as meditation in motion, tai chi is an effective exercise for gently improving strength, balance, flexibility, and range of motion. It’s especially beneficial for older adults with joint stiffness or who want to help prevent falls. Even if you’re totally new to the practice, you’ll have no trouble following along as Master Li guides you through a series of exercises. Audio prompts help you sync your breath with your movements and let you know what comes next so you can focus on your practice—not watching the clock.

- Sit and Be Fit (https://www.sitandbefit.org/)
  Sit and Be Fit is a televised exercise program for older adults and anyone needing slow gentle movement. The program is broadcast throughout the United States on public television stations. Sit and Be Fit is committed to improving the quality of life of older adults and physically limited individuals through safe, effective exercises that are available through television, videos and the Internet. Check your PBS local listing for dates and time or find episodes on YouTube.

- You Tube
  Using YouTube you can search hundreds of videos customized for seniors. Simply go to https://www.youtube.com/ and search fitness programs for seniors.

Wikipedia defines advocacy as “an activity by an individual or group which aims to influence decisions within political, economic, and social systems and institutions.” Advocacy can also be defined as simply people having a conversation about what is important to them and important to those they love.

You may be saying to yourself, “I’m not into politics”, and that’s okay. Advocacy actually is not about politics – it is about policy. Policy related to programs for seniors; policy related to health care; policy related to the environment. For example, the Older Americans Act – the primary funder for programs like Meals on Wheels and Caregiver Support – is federal law. It must periodically be reauthorized by Congress, and it must continue to be funded. If these programs for seniors are important to you, you have the right and the duty as an American to speak up to your lawmakers about them.

And it really is just a conversation, and ideally a friendly one. Our lawmakers want to hear from us because they want to know what is important to the people they are representing. If affordable housing is important to you, or Foodshare benefits are important to you, it is critical that you let your elected officials know about it. Advocacy is education – Education for our lawmakers.

We do not want to be pushy or threatening in our communication to those who represent us. We want to be respectful and understand that different people have different beliefs, but you have the right and the duty to share your beliefs with those who were elected to represent you. If you have a story related to why something is important you, all the better. Tell that story!

It’s been said that facts make us credible, but stories make us memorable. Tell your story!

In the coming months, look to the Advocacy Corner for information on current legislation and policy that affects seniors and adults with disabilities, along with continued tips and strategies for making your voice heard.

Honoring President George H.W. Bush

On Friday, November 30th, our nation lost a great American who had a great commitment to public service, President George H.W. Bush.

That commitment was on full display on July 26, 1990, when Pres. Bush signed into law the landmark Americans with Disabilities Act. From curb cuts and accessible buses to the integration of people with disabilities in schools, workplaces, businesses, and neighborhoods, the ADA has made our communities more accessible and more inclusive. Thanks to President Bush’s leadership, millions of older adults and people with disabilities have been able to enter through doors, both literal and metaphorical, that were previously closed to them.

"Together, we must remove the physical barriers we have created and the social barriers that we have accepted," President Bush said as he signed the ADA into law. "For ours will never be a truly prosperous nation until all within it prosper."
January 11th is Human Trafficking Awareness Day

Perhaps you have seen news reports, read or listened to stories on social media about human trafficking. You may have asked yourself; does this really happen in America? In this article, we’ll provide information on what human trafficking is, address some myths, and provide information so you can be aware of the very real threat of human trafficking in your community.

What is Human Trafficking?

Human trafficking is a form of modern slavery that occurs in every state in the US, including Wisconsin. Victims of human trafficking may be forced to provide labor and/or commercial sex in many different types of situations. Most labor trafficking occurs in domestic work, agricultural jobs, travelling sales crews, health and beauty services, construction, and even restaurants. Sex trafficking victims can be forced to work in many venues/industries including hotels, fake massage businesses, brothels, truck stops, or on the street. Human trafficking can happen to young and old alike.

How prevalent is Human Trafficking?

There were 64 reported cases of Human Trafficking in Wisconsin in 2017, and these are only the reported cases. Human Trafficking has been documented in every county in Wisconsin. Across the United States, there were 14,117 calls made to The National Human Trafficking Hotline in 2017.

The biggest ‘areas’ of these reports are generally within and between the major cities; between Chicago and Milwaukee, between Milwaukee and Madison, and between Madison and Green Bay. Therefore, it is important to be aware of the warning signs of human trafficking even here in Waukesha County!

What are the Warning Signs that someone is a victim of trafficking?

The Waukesha County Anti-Human Trafficking Task Force recommends being aware of these warning signs within your community:

- Victims show signs of fear, anxiety, tension, submission, and/or nervousness. They may avoid eye contact or interaction with others.
- Victims show signs of physical abuse, restraint, and/or confinement.
- Victims may show signs of malnourishment, poor hygiene, fatigue, untreated illness/injury.
- Tattoos in similar locations as other people they are traveling with. This may indicate ‘branding’ by a trafficker.
- Victims may dress inappropriately for their age or may claim to be an adult although appearance suggests they are a minor.
- Victims do not have identification, money, or personal items.
- Victims appear to be with a significantly older ‘boyfriend’ or in the company of older males.
- A group of girls appear to be traveling with an older female or male.

If you or someone you know may be experiencing human trafficking, please contact the National Human Trafficking Hotline by calling 1-888-373-7888 or text 233733.

Other sources of information include The Women’s Center of Waukesha, Office on Trafficking in Persons, and the Polaris Project.
What is NOT covered by Medicare?

Figuring out whether Medicare will pay your claims is often confusing. Payment of claims depends on many factors. However, there are certain things that Original Medicare (Part A & B) will generally NOT cover, such as:

- Routine vision care and exams; glasses (unless related to cataract surgery.)
- Routine hearing exams, hearing aids, or the cost of fitting hearing aids (however, you will only pay 20% of the Medicare-approved amount for diagnostic hearing exams)
- Routine foot care (although there are a few exceptions under some circumstances for people with diabetes, for example.)
- Most dental care and dentures
- Virtual colonoscopies
- Acupuncture
- Holistic medicine
- Cosmetic surgery
- If you elect hospice care, Medicare will not pay for room and board charges. This can result in large and unexpected bills. Although there are advantages to choosing hospice care under some circumstances, it is important to be clear about what will not be covered when you or your spouse decide on hospice care. Ask for information when you are deciding.
- Charges for things such as television, telephone, a private room, private duty nursing, or personal care items (razors, slipper socks, etc.) while you are hospitalized
- Deductibles, coinsurance, or copayments when you get health care services
- Custodial care (help with bathing, dressing, using the bathroom, and eating) at home or in a nursing home if that is the only kind of care that is received
- Health care received while outside of the United States (except in limited circumstances.)

These are just a few of the things that are not covered by the Original Medicare Plan. There are other things that Medicare does not cover. If you are unsure about whether Medicare will pay for a certain service, call 1-800-MEDICARE for assistance. Medicare Advantage plans may include extra benefits, such as routine physical and vision exams, prescription drugs, and dental care. For specific questions on what Medicare Part A (Hospital Insurance) and Part B (Medical Insurance) covers, or for more information about your Medicare health coverage choices, please call the Medicare at 1-800-MEDICARE (1-800-633-4227) for English or Spanish, or TTY 1-877-486-2048.

Honoring the Great....

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr

On January 21st, 2019 Americans across the country will celebrate one of the greatest American civil rights leaders, Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Many people choose to celebrate and recognize Dr. King for his most well-known accomplishments. Below, you will find 10 lesser known facts about the honorable and courageous Dr. King.

1. Dr. King’s birth name was Michael, not Martin. The civil rights leader was born Michael King Jr. on January 15, 1929. In 1934, however, his father, a pastor at Atlanta’s Ebenezer Baptist Church, traveled to Germany and became inspired by the Protestant Reformation leader Martin Luther. As a result, King Sr. changed his own name as well as that of his 5-year-old son.

2. Dr. King entered college at the age of 15. Dr. King was such a gifted student that he skipped grades nine and 12 before enrolling in 1944 at Morehouse College, the alma mater of his father and maternal grandfather. Although he was the son, grandson and great-grandson of Baptist ministers, Dr. King did not intend to follow the family vocation until his attendance at Morehouse.

3. Dr. King’s “I Have a Dream” speech was not his first at the Lincoln Memorial. Six years before his iconic oration at the March on Washington, Dr. King was among the civil rights leaders who spoke in the shadow of the Great Emancipator on May 17, 1957 before a crowd estimated between 15,000 and 30,000.

4. According to the King Center, the civil rights leader went to jail 29 times. He was arrested for acts of civil disobedience and on trumped-up charges, such as in 1956 when he was jailed in Montgomery, Alabama for driving 30 miles per hour in a 25-mile-per-hour zone.

5. George Washington is the only other American to have had his birthday observed as a national holiday. In 1983 President Ronald Reagan signed a bill that created a federal holiday to honor Dr. King. The holiday, first commemorated in 1986, is celebrated on the third Monday in January, close to the civil rights leader’s January 15th birthday.

6. In 1964 Dr. King was the youngest Nobel Peace Prize winner at the age of 35. Since then, the prize has been awarded to Malala Yousafzai (age 17, in 2014). Dr. King donated the $54,000 prize to the civil rights effort.

7. Dr. King was the first African American "Man of the Year" in TIME Magazine’s 1963 issue. The only other African American man to receive the title was Barack Obama, in 2008.

8. Martin Luther King was a “Trekkie”. Dr. King urged Nichelle Nichols (who played Uhura on the show Star Trek) to stay because her character broke the norm as an intelligent and equal member of the crew, a departure from the typical black persona on television at that time.

9. From the years 1957 to 1968, Dr. King traveled over 6 million miles and spoke over 2,500 times at different protests and civil rights events.

10. There are approximately 900 streets in the United States that are named after Dr. Martin Luther King. Even Italy and Israel has streets named after the civil rights leader.
