Mukwonago Park is part of the Waukesha County Park System. This 8,500-acre, natural resources-based system consists of diverse landscapes, high-quality natural areas, a variety of trails, and beautiful lakes, ponds, and waterways.

This 355-acre parcel includes a high ridge, formed during the last glacial period, which stretches nearly the length of the Park. Park visitors of all ages will be delighted to discover the Park's commanding view of the rolling terrain and farmlands typical of southeastern Wisconsin.

The Oak Openings ridge is covered with presettlement vegetation including bur oak, shagbark hickory, and ground cover of prairie plants. Staff and volunteers are working hard on the globally rare Oak Openings habitat by removing invasive species and reintroducing fire to this unique landscape through the use of controlled burns.

While strolling through the oak savanna, you may spot a red-tailed hawk, turkey vulture, or yellow-throated vireo, species that frequent the park.
